Kingsbridge and 183rd Street 4 Stations Reopen After Four Months

Beginning 6 p.m. Friday, July 13, the Kingsbridge Road and 183rd Street stations will reopen following a four-month closure for rehabilitation. This $55 million, five-station project along the Jerome Avenue line includes the rehabilitation of Burnside Avenue, 183rd Street, Kingsbridge Road, Bedford Park Boulevard, and Mosholu Parkway.

The rehabilitation included replacement of the mezzanines, canopy roofs, platform windscreens and platform edge safety warning strips. In addition, there are electrical upgrades, installation of fluorescent lighting and other amenities. Work on the southbound side of Mosholu Parkway will begin later this summer on August 13.

For more information on this or any other subway construction project, customers should consult posted Service Change Notices, log on to www.mta.info or call Travel Information at 718-330-1234 from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. everyday.
