The Thanksgiving Holiday Makes for Happy Days on Metro-North's Port Jervis and Pascack Valley Lines

The Thanksgiving holiday makes for the biggest travel days of the year, and this year Metro-North is providing more "getaway" trains, holiday travel trains, and off-peak service for West of Hudson customers.

Wednesday, November 26, is the day when most people try to get an early jump on the holiday. On the Pascack Valley Line, the 2:51 p.m. "getaway" departure from Hoboken to Spring Valley will operate as shown in the October 26 timetables. However, to accommodate this getaway train, the 5:55 p.m. departure from Hoboken to Spring Valley will not operate.

On the Port Jervis Line, there is an early getaway train departing Hoboken at 2:43 p.m., making stops from Suffern to Port Jervis. To accommodate this train, the 6:08 train from Hoboken will not operate.

On Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 27, a Sunday schedule will be in effect on the Port Jervis and Pascack Valley Lines. For those heading to the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, an extra inbound train will operate on the Port Jervis Line, departing Port Jervis at 6:21 a.m., running express after Suffern, and arriving in Hoboken at 8:30 a.m.

And for those home-going parade-goers, an extra train will depart Hoboken at 12:15 p.m., run express to Suffern, and arrive at Port Jervis at 2:22 p.m.

For those who are going shopping—or going back to work—the Friday after Thanksgiving, November 28, the same pre-holiday getaway schedule for November 26 will be in effect for both the Pascack Valley and Port Jervis Lines.
