One Doesn't Need To Labor Over MTA Metro-North Railroad's Labor Day Holiday Schedule

A free and easy Labor Day schedule begins on Friday, September 4 as thousands of people get a jump on the last holiday of summer.

To accommodate these sun-seeking crowds, Metro-North will provide additional departures from Grand Central on all lines from 1 p.m. through 4 p.m. Both the Hudson and Harlem Lines will have 4 additional trains each. The New Haven Line will have 8 additional trains.

Because of the early getaway crowd, and adjusting to the fewer travelers later on, there will be some cancelled and combined trains on all three lines during Friday's later p.m. peak. These changes are included in the printed timetables.

Saturday, September 5 and Sunday, September 6 trains will operate on a regular weekend schedule. Monday Labor Day, September 7, trains will operate on a Sunday schedule.
