Make The Most Of Summer, Take The LIRR To "The End"

Full day visit to Montauk on August 15 for a Family Fun Weekend!

Escape Manhattan, making a day trip to Long Island's South Fork. Montauk is only a train ride away and the MTA Long Island Rail Road can deliver you there. Wind swept beaches, orange sunsets and unique shopping await and will live on in your memory long after the weather changes.

The MTA Long Island Rail Road's one-day "Montauk Lighthouse" getaway on Saturday, August 15th is the best way for families to see this seaside resort community. Three distinct areas are on the itinerary including Montauk Village, the Lighthouse and Gosman's Dock. Children will be thrilled by pirate shows, colonial recreations, face painting and much more. More information can be found on the Montauk Lighthouse's website: <http://www.montauklighthouse.com/events.htm>

The day begins with a stop at Montauk village where many unique stores offer wares from surfboards to the latest swimwear. Lunch can also be purchased at a variety of local restaurants. The world-famous Montauk Lighthouse is the next destination. Participants can choose to climb 137-steps up the spiral staircase for spectacular views or stroll around the landscaped property and take in the museum and gift shop on the first floor. Gosman's Dock is the last stop of the day. Seafood can be purchased at the outdoor clam bar or at the renowned restaurant overlooking Montauk Harbor. Nearby boutiques are also there for the browsing and returning fishing boats make for an interesting look-see.
