B83 Spring Creek Terminal Relocated

New Terminal at Brooklyn Developmental Center

MTA New York City Transit announces that as of December 8, 2010, the terminal for the B83 route is now at Fountain Avenue instead of at Gateway Drive.

In the past, customers from the Brooklyn Developmental Center would board the bus, travel one stop to the old terminal and would have to wait through the layover at Gateway Drive. After reviewing customers' travel patterns, Transit has relocated the final stop to Fountain Avenue in front of the Brooklyn Developmental Center. All customers going to the Mall may get off at Erskine Street which is the first stop after the bus exits the highway. The destination of most of the remaining customers is the Developmental Center.

Customers may visit www.mta.info to check for Current Service Status as well as to plan their trip with Plan&Ride or call Travel Information at (718) 330-1234, 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., daily. Customers may also try our new On the Go iPhone/iPad app at <http://onthego.mta.info>.
