MTA LIRR & New York Cares Coat Drive At Penn Station Weekdays During December

Clean, Wearable, Gently-used Winter Coats Are Needed

The MTA Long Island Rail Road is teaming up with New York Cares again this holiday season to collect coats at Penn Station to help out individuals in need of a warm winter coat.

Throughout the month of December, volunteers from New York Cares will collect coats in the 34th Street Entrance Concourse area of Penn Station near the escalators from 7:30 AM to 9:30 AM each weekday.

Clean, wearable, gently-used winter overcoats, jackets, and parkas for adults and children are needed.

New York Cares is a nonprofit, volunteer organization. Coats collected in the drive will be distributed to men, woman and children in need throughout New York City. Last year, over 70,000 coats were collected and handed out.
