M9 Route and Bus Stop Changes Better Service to VA Medical Center

Effective Sunday, October 10, MTA NYC Transit will begin a route modification to the M9 bus service in order to better accommodate customers heading to the VA Medical Center on East 23rd Street. The terminal (first and last) stop for the M9 will now be on East 23rd adjacent to the VA Medical Center.

Northbound, the M9 will travel on the current route on Avenue C and along the FDR Drive service road. It will then travel west on East 23rd Street to the new terminal stop on East 23rd Street on the far side of Asser Levy Place in front of the VA Medical Center.

Southbound, the M9 will leave the medical center, travel west on East 23rd Street, south on 2nd Avenue, east on East 20th Street and south on Avenue C and continue on the current route. New southbound stops will be on East 23rd Street at Asser Levy Place, on East 23rd at 1st Avenue, on 2nd Avenue at East 23rd Street and on East 20th Street on the far side of 1st Avenue. The northbound stop on East 20th Street on the near side of 1st Avenue, and the southbound stops on FDR Drive at 23rd and 20th Streets will be discontinued.

Customers may call Travel Information 7 days a week between the hours of 6 a.m. and 10 p.m. at (718) 330-1234 or go on line at www.mta.info and click on Planned Service Changes, Current Service Status or plan you trip with Plan&Ride.
