Metro-North Is Your Ticket To The New York Times Travel Show

A world awaits at the New York Times Travel Show this weekend February 27 and 28 at the Jacob Javits Convention Center, and you can get there for less with MTA Metro-North Railroad's discount rail and show Getaway package.

The 2010 New York Time Travel Show features 500 exhibitors from more than 150 countries as well as a world of on-site activities. There will be travel seminars by experts, including Arthur and Pauline Frommer, and Patricia Schultz, author of "1,000 Places to See Before You Die," stage performances of six cultural stages featuring tastings, cooking demos, and entertainers from around the world, giveaways, contests, sweepstakes and more.

While you're there, stop by Metro-North's Getaway booth and pick up information about Metro-North train service and Getaway packages to New York City, the Hudson Valley, Connecticut and beyond.

Metro-North's Getaway package to the Travel Show includes discount round-trip rail fare from your boarding station plus discount Show admission. Adults/seniors/children 18 years and over pay just $12 admission and children under 18 & under are admitted free and you can save an additional 5% on rail fare when you purchase this package through WebTicket. (Admission price is in addition to discounted rail fare.)

The show opens at 10 a.m. each day and ends at 6 p.m. on Saturday and 4 p.m. on Sunday. Enter the Javits Center at Eleventh Avenue and 35th Street.
