Rockaways A Stations Rehab Project

Beach 60th Street and Beach 36th Street Stations Partially Closed

The Far Rockaway-bound platforms at Beach 60th Street and Beach 36th Street are next in line to be closed as part of our ongoing rehabilitations of stations in the Rockaways. These platforms will be closed for approximately four months beginning at 5 a.m. on Monday, February 22, 2010.

The work includes installing new canopies over the stairs and platforms, repairing the platforms, columns, stairs and tracks, refurbishing the mezzanine and platform floors, replacing the stations' lighting and platform edges, and installing a new, high-quality public address system.

For service from the affected stations to Far Rockaway, customers may take a Manhattan-bound A train to Beach 44th Street or Beach 67th and transfer to a Far Rockaway/Mott Avenue-bound A train. For service to the affected stations, customers may take a Far-Rockaway-bound A train to Beach 44th Street or Beach 25th Street and transfer to a Manhattan-bound A train.

We are pleased to announce that the Far Rockaway-bound A platforms at Beach 67th and Beach 44th Streets were reopened on January 18, 2010, while the Far Rockaway-bound A platform at Beach 25th Street was reopened on January 25.

We apologize in advance for any inconvenience to riders who use the stations under rehabilitation. For further information, customers should consult the Service Information notices posted in subway stations. Customers may also call NYC Transit's Travel Information Center at 718 330 1234 or view Planned Service Changes information on line at www.mta.info.
