St. Albans Customers Receive Substitute Van Service As Track Work Is Performed At Valley Stream This Sunday, August 21

Vans will replace train service for St. Albans customers this Sunday, August 21, as the MTA Long Island Rail Road performs track work at Valley Stream from 10 AM Sunday through 2 AM Monday morning (August 22). The vans will shuttle St. Albans customers between Jamaica and St. Albans. During this period, the LIRR will be performing surfacing work in the major switching area that four of the LIRR branches operate through in Valley Stream. The work entails the realignment of track and switches on the western end of Valley Stream, resulting in a smoother ride and better service reliability.

St. Albans Customers – August 21 Eastbound:

St. Albans customers traveling from western terminals to St. Albans will exit the train at Jamaica and board vans for St. Albans. Customers should expect an additional 17 minutes travel time.

Eastbound customers at St. Albans wishing to travel to Babylon Branch stations will board vans at St. Albans, 32 minutes later than normal, destined for Rockville Centre. At Rockville Centre, customers can transfer back to a train for the remainder of their trip. As a result, customers should anticipate 59 minutes additional travel time.

Westbound

Customers at St. Albans wishing to travel to Jamaica and LIRR western terminals will board vans, 13 minutes later than normal, destined for Jamaica. At Jamaica, customers can transfer to a train for travel to points west. Customers using the van service should expect an additional 30 minutes travel time.

Westbound customers traveling from Babylon Branch stations to St. Albans will remain on their train to Jamaica, where they will board an eastbound van for St. Albans. As a result, customers should anticipate 31 minutes additional travel time.

St. Albans customers are advised to pick up the special St. Albans Station timetable card for travel on Sunday, August 21.
