Some Midday Trains on Montauk Branch between Babylon and Speonk Affected by Tie Replacement Work Starting September 12

Buses replace some other midday trains between Patchogue and Montauk on September 14 & 15 Only for Rail Inspection

The MTA Long Island Rail Road will begin tie replacement track work on the Montauk Branch between Babylon and Sayville starting September 12 and continuing through November 6. The work will affect six midday, weekday trains – three eastbound and three westbound – that operate between Babylon and Speonk.

Additionally, on September 14 & 15 only, rail inspection will be performed between Patchogue and Montauk, which will result in bus service being substituted for four other midday trains – two eastbound and two westbound – on the Montauk Branch east of Patchogue, September 14 and east of Speonk, September 15. This replacement bus service for the rail inspection is in addition to the alternate bus and train service already replacing some midday trains between Babylon and Speonk for the track tie replacement work.
