Fashion Week Preview at Penn Station!

LIRR Commuters to Get Special Sneak Peak Tomorrow

Every year New York City is taken over by the fashionistas of the world. As a preview to Fashion Week, the Long Island Rail Road will roll out the red carpet at Penn Station tomorrow, Wednesday, February 9, from 4 to 7 PM. Recording Artist Cyre' will host the preview, with Elene Cassis, Marcia Sherrill, Sally Hansen, and Stella Zotis from Project Runway showing off collections, accessory secrets, and other fashion tools.

Throughout the event, designers from some of the industry's leading labels will have tables and will make presentations in front of a special backdrop. Long Island Rail Road rush-hour commuters can be the first to see what Couture and Ready-to-Wear collections are being presented to key retailers this season!

There are always exciting things to do and see in New York City, and the LIRR is the best way to get you there. Take the train to Fashion Week, which runs from Feb. 10th to the 17th! LIRR's new 2011 NYC Getaways brochure is currently available with many discounted packages and deals. Make sure you stop by the LIRR table and have a chance to win a raffle for a pair of tickets to: Memphis the Musical, NBC Studio Tour and NY SkyRide. And why not purchase the LIRR's Macy's VIP Shopping package to come see this event and shop till you drop!

Cyre' is best known for her Billboard International chart topping song "Last Chance" and was listed in Billboard, DMR magazine and Cashbox, as a top recording artist. She will debut a brand new song written for this event, "Sweet Inspiration," and will perform "Fantasy/Last Chance" at 5:30 PM.
