The MTA is Your Ticket to Summer in the City

NYC Getaways on Metro-North & Long Island Rail Road Offer the Best of the Big Town

No one takes you to Manhattan — the center of the universe, with the biggest and the best of everything — faster, more comfortably, and less expensively than the MTA Long Island Rail Road and Metro-North Railroad. There's plenty of frequent service (so you can come and go as you please); lots of seats for you, your family, and friends; and overhead racks for your new-found treasures.

Now, Metro-North and the LIRR, the nation's biggest commuter rail systems, have expanded their New York City Getaway programs so that their customers can enjoy more of the city this summer than ever before — and at bargain prices that could include discounted round-trip rail fare or discounted venue admission or both.

For highlights of Metro-North's New York City Getaways program, see the attached news release from MTA Metro-North Railroad.

For a listing of LIRR's Getaways and escorted tours, see the attached news release from MTA Long Island Rail Road.

For details about all the venues, prices and train travel information, visit mta.info/mnr or mta.info/lirr and click on "Deals and Getaways" or pick up a brochure at Grand Central Terminal or Penn Station.

People also can call 511, the New York State Travel Information Line, and say: Metro-North or Long Island Rail Road. If you are deaf or hard of hearing, use your preferred relay service provider for the free 711 relay to reach LIRR or Metro-North.
