Take Mass Transit to the Giants Super Bowl Celebration

Note Stations to Use and Stations to Avoid

Hundreds of thousands of New York Giants fans will line Manhattan's famed Canyon of Heroes from Bowling Green to City Hall to salute the Super Bowl Champions on Tuesday, February 7. MTA New York City Transit is the best way to get there. Fresh from rooting their NFC Champions on to victory in Super Bowl XLVI, fans will flock to Lower Broadway for Tuesday's super Ticker Tape Parade which kicks off at 11 a.m., followed by a 1 p.m. City Hall Ceremony.

Fans are urged to use these stations:

Rector Street R

Cortlandt Street R

Fulton Street 23

Wall Street 23

South Ferry 1

Chambers Street-Brooklyn Bridge 456 or J

Due to crowding conditions, these stations will be bypassed beginning at 10 a.m. Please avoid these stations:

- Fulton Street 45
- Fulton Street AC
- Wall Street 45
- City Hall R
- Chambers Street-WTC, (E will discharge customers at Canal Street, A and C will bypass)

NYPD may close some entrances at open stations depending on crowd conditions. Personnel will closely monitor conditions at the Park Place 23 station and the Bowling Green 45 station and make closures if necessary.

Several local and express bus routes that serve lower Manhattan will be rerouted due to street closures for the parade. Routes that normally serve Broadway, Greenwich, Trinity and Church Streets will be rerouted to Water Street. The reroutes are expected to be in place by 9 a.m.; some detours may begin as early as 7 a.m.

Buses that serve the area and will be subject to reroutes:

M9, M5, M15, M20, M22, M103, BM1, BM2, BM3, BM4, BxM18, QM7, QM8, QM11, QM25, X1, X3, X4, X10, X11, X12, X15, X17A/C, X19, X27, X28.

Customers are encouraged to sign up for email alerts at www.mta.info which will be issued when service resumes. Both bus and subway customers should remember to fill their MetroCards in advance and give themselves extra time for traveling to lower Manhattan.
