NYC Transit

IMMEDIATE

Service Suspended On No. 1 Line Between 215th and 242nd Street From 11 PM Sunday, Jan. 1 Through 5 AM Monday, Jan. 2nd Due To City DOT Work On Broadway Bridge

Free Shuttle Bus Will Be In Place

The City Department of Transportation is performing necessary repair work on the Broadway Bridge, which will result in a suspension of service in both directions on No. 1 line between 215th Street and 242nd Street beginning 11 p.m. on Sunday, January 1st through 5 a.m. on Monday, January 2nd.

Free shuttle buses will be available during this time. Buses will load on the corner of W. 215th Street and 10th Avenue and will stop at 225th, 231st, 238th and Broadway.

In the event the bridge is raised during the work process, the following local detours will be in place:

Northbound: From 215th Street, onto 10th Avenue, to 207th Street, Sedgwick Avenue to Bailey Avenue, to 225th Street, onto Broadway and continue to 242nd Street station.

Southbound: From Broadway onto 225th Street, to Bailey Avenue, to Fordham Road, across the 207th Street Bridge to #1 stop at 207th Street and 10th Avenue. Bus will then continue to Broadway and the 215th Street station stop.

In addition, the BX7 bus route may also be affected if the bridge is open and may be detoured as follows:

Northbound: 215th Street to 10th Avenue, to 207th Street, to Sedgwick Avenue and continue to Bailey Avenue, to 225th Street, onto Broadway and regular to 242nd Street.

Southbound: From Broadway to 225th Street, to Bailey Avenue, to Fordham Road, cross over 207th Street Bridge and stop at #1 train station at 207th and 10th Avenue, continue across 207th Street to Broadway and on to the 215th Street station.
