Bleecker Street 6 East Mezzanine Re-Opens

Work on Station Rehabilitation Continues

The newly renovated east mezzanine of the Bleecker Street station on the 6 Line will be open for customer use at 8 p.m., Saturday, April 21.

The opening of the east mezzanine will also include the re-opening of two existing entrance stairs. One stair is located on the southeast corner of East Houston and Lafayette Streets, adjacent to the historic Puck Building. The other stair is located at the corner of Mulberry and East Houston Streets. This entrance will provide direct access to uptown 6 trains.

This work was part of the Bleecker Street station, rehabilitation which incorporates a new, free transfer between B, D, F and M Line service and Bronx-bound 6 service. At the time of the re-opening, the Bleecker Street mezzanine and control area will be closed temporarily for rehabilitation. The work includes the installation of new tiles, flooring and lighting upgrades.

The completion of this project in June will provide ADA access to both the Bleecker Street and Broadway-Lafayette stations.
