LIRR Huntington/Port Jefferson Service Affected by Track Work Saturday, September 22

LIRR Is Replacing Switch Near Huntington

The MTA Long Island Rail Road is performing switch replacement work near Huntington on Saturday, September 22. The work will require the reduction of eastbound and westbound train service on the Port Jefferson Branch from 2:30 AM until 9:30 PM on that Saturday. Some customers will be required to transfer at Hicksville to complete their trips.

Huntington/Port Jefferson service will be affected as follows:

Huntington, Syosset, Cold Spring Harbor:

Trains will stop at Huntington, Syosset, and Cold Spring Harbor stations once every hour – reduced from every half hour.

Port Jefferson through Greenlawn:

Trains will stop at stations Port Jefferson through Greenlawn every two hours – reduced from the usual service in which is every 90 minutes.

Some eastbound customers originating at New Hyde Park and Merillon Avenue and destined for Syosset through Port Jefferson, will transfer at Hicksville to continue travel to points east.

Some westbound customers originating at stations Port Jefferson through Syosset, and destined for Westbury and Merillon Avenue, will transfer at Hicksville to continue to their trip.

For additional information, customers are advised to pick up a copy of the Port Jefferson Branch Saturday Track Work Schedule dated September 22, 2012 or visit the LIRR's website at www.mta.info/lirr.
