Queens-bound Tube of Queens Midtown Tunnel to be Closed Weeknights

12 Weeks of Overnight Closures Begin January 2016 for Superstorm Sandy Repairs

Starting on Monday night, January 4, 2016, the Queens-bound (south) tube of the Queens Midtown Tunnel will be closed during weekday overnight hours for approximately 12 weeks of Sandy restoration work. One lane will remain open in each direction in the north tube during these periods.

The closures will take place between 10:30 p.m. to 5:30 a.m., Monday through Thursday. On Fridays, the closures will take place from 11 p.m. until 8 a.m. Saturday.

The south tube closures may be suspended for certain major holidays and other events.

Motorists should allow extra time and use an alternate route if possible.
