Metro-North New Haven Line Service Alert

Railroad Reports Delays of Up to 30 Minutes Until Further Notice

New Haven Line customers should anticipate delays up to 30 minutes until further notice because of mechanical problems with the Devon Movable Bridge. The bridge spans the Housatonic River, connecting Stratford and Milford, Connecticut. Following an overnight test opening, one of two of the bridge's spans the bridge became stuck in the open position. The remaining two tracks are operating at reduced speed through the area. Metro-North and Connecticut Department of Transportation representatives are on site assessing the situation and we will provide updates as soon as they are available.
