Metro-North Crews to Make Improvements to Upper Hudson Line on Saturday, October 13

Minor Saturday Schedule Change in Effect to Accommodate Infrastructure Improvement

MTA Metro-North Railroad advises customers that on Saturday, October 13, crews will continue making improvements to the upper Hudson Line in the area between Cortlandt and Peekskill. Crews will resurface switches between Peekskill and Cortlandt, weld track joints and cut trees.

This track work will require single-track operation for a distance of 11.5 miles between the area north of Croton-Harmon and Manitou, resulting in minor schedule adjustments for certain trains on Saturday, October 13.

Local trains operating between Grand Central Terminal and Croton-Harmon will not be affected by the track work and will run on a regular weekend schedule. Regular train service will be in effect on Sunday, October 14.

The following schedule adjustments will be made on Saturday, October 13.
