

MTA Press Releases

Select Language | ▼

Press Release

January 5, 2016

NYC Transit

IMMEDIATE

MTA NYCT SERVICE ADVISORY: N Q Service Suspended Between Queens and Manhattan; Changes to Southbound R Service

Due to rail conditions south of Queensboro Plaza on the N Q Lines and south of 5 Av on the N Q R Lines, Broadway Line service between Queens and Manhattan is affected during the afternoon rush hour today, Tuesday, January 5. Customers traveling between Manhattan and Brooklyn should expect delays in both directions. Customers should note the following:

- No N Q service between Queens and Manhattan in both directions. Customers should take the 7 and transfer to a shuttle train service at Queensboro Plaza.
- There is no southbound service at Lexington-59 St or 5 Av. Customers at Lexington Av-59 St should take the 4 5 6. Customers also can walk to 5 Av-53 St and the E to 42 St and transfer to the N Q, or take the M and transfer to the N Q at 34 St-Herald Sq.
- Manhattan-bound R trains are running on the F line between 36 St in Queens and W4 St. R service runs express to 59 St-4 Av in Brooklyn, then local to Bay Ridge-95 St.
- Customers traveling from Manhattan to Brooklyn should take the N for Brooklyn R stations between Court St and 53 St.
- Delays are expected on northbound N Q R service, as well as Brooklyn-bound B D F service.