New LIRR Timetables Go Into Effect Monday, Nov. 14 Highlighted by Extra Holiday Season Train Service and Changes in East End Travel

Other Schedule Changes Are Due to Planned Track Work, Ongoing Construction

New Long Island Rail Road timetables will go into effect on Monday, November 14 with enhanced train service for the holiday season and changes to daily train service from Montauk and weekend train service to and from Greenport. The new schedules, which will remain in effect through Sunday, March 6, also reflect adjustments to departure and arrival times of off-peak and weekend trains to accommodate track work on some branches.

Extra Service for the Holiday Season

The LIRR will operate additional early afternoon eastbound trains on November 23, the eve of Thanksgiving, on December 23, the Friday before Christmas, and on Friday, December 30, the Friday before New Year's for customers looking to make an early get away from work.

- Thanksgiving Day, November 24 there are extra trains scheduled to get you to and from the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade.
- Black Friday, November 25, the traditional start of the holiday shopping season, if not the biggest shopping day of the year, the LIRR will operate on a regular weekday scheduled.
- Enhanced Weekend Service for the holiday season debuts on Saturday, November 26 and Sunday, November 27 and every weekend through New Year's Day, January 1, 2017.

Holiday Fares – Off-Peak Pricing & Family Fare Discount

As a bonus, off-peak fares will be in effect for the extended Thanksgiving weekend from Thursday, November 24 through Sunday, November 27. Additionally, the Railroad's Family Fare Discount will be in effect all four days. That means kids ages 5-11 (limit of 4 children) can ride one-way for $1 when accompanied by a fare paying parent or guardian. Weekly and monthly ticket holders pay just for the kids and, as always, children under 5 ride free.

Changes in Travel to Long Island's East End

Weekdays from Montauk

The 5:39 a.m. peak train from Montauk to Hunterspoint Ave. is expected to run more reliably now that the schedules of two trains ahead of it have been adjusted.

- The 7:03 a.m. peak train from Patchogue to Babylon will now operate two minutes earlier, leaving Patchogue at 7:01 a.m. and arriving Babylon at 7:31 a.m.
- The connection for this train, the 7:37 a.m. train from Babylon to Penn Station, will now depart Babylon at 7:35 a.m., operating two minutes earlier at all station stops Babylon through Seaford, then reverting to its regular schedule with Penn Station arrival remaining at 8:48 a.m.

Weekends to and from Greenport and the North Fork

Weekend service between Ronkonkoma and Greenport during the winter months is being restored for the first time since 2010. Two trains in each direction will operate each weekend as weekend service is once again being provided year-round.

'Sundown Service' Returns Friday, November 18

Friday-only sundown service will resume on the Far Rockaway Branch on November 18. Sundown service trains depart from Atlantic Terminal, Brooklyn at 3:05 p.m. and Penn Station at 3:07 p.m., both connecting at Jamaica to the 3:31 p.m. train to Far Rockaway, stopping at Valley Stream, Gibson, Hewlett, Woodmere, Cedarhurst, Lawrence and arriving at Far Rockaway at 4:05 p.m.

Timetable Adjustments for Scheduled Track Work

Some off-peak trains are adjusted during this timetable to accommodate track work, including trains on the following branches:

Atlantic Branch

One of two main tracks between East New York and Jamaica will be out of service midday weekdays for the replacement of continuously welded rail.

Port Washington Branch

One of two main tracks of the Port Washington Branch between Mets-Willets Point and Bayside will be out of service midday weekdays for the completion of mechanized tie work, hand tie replacement and other miscellaneous work. This is the last phase of mechanized tie work that began last year.

Montauk Branch

One of two main tracks between Valley Stream and Rockville Centre will be out of service weekday overnights for work within the interlocking related to the concrete tie installation project and separately between Rockville Centre and Freeport on weekends for layout and preparation work for the concrete tie replacement scheduled for 2017.
