SOLICITATION TITLE: Purchase of Fare Gates Test and Evaluation

DESCRIPTION: The MTA is seeking the procurement of a limited number of gates with modern fare evasion design and technology as potential replacement for the MTA's existing emergency gate. The intent of this procurement is to obtain gates for rapid product testing and experimentation. These gates would be used solely to replace exit gates, which currently account for a significant portion of fare evasion instances in the NYCT subway system. For the purposes of rapid deployment combined with product testing, the product should be able to accommodate exit-only function. The product is not required to be integrated with the OMNY fare payment system at this time. After initial evaluation in the MTA lab to demonstrate that safety, ADA, and other requirements are met, the gates will be considered for immediate deployment to the field
